Parturit amicus ager, Zephyrique tepentibus auris
Laxant arva sinus, superat tener omnibus humor;
Inque novos soles audent se gramina tuto
Credere, nec metuit surgentes pampinus austros.

JUN IUS

Quando exustus ager morientibus astat herbis,
Ecce superciliis clivosi tramitis undam

Elicit: illa cadens, raucum per levia murmur
Saxa ciet, scatebrisque arentia temperat arva.

Ne saturare fimo pingui pudeat sola, neve
 Effatos cinerem immundum jactare per agros.
 Sæpe etiam steriles incendere præsunt agros,
 Atque levem stipulam crepitantibus urere flammis.

Of the Eclipses this Year.

T Here will be this Year two Eclipses, both of the Sun; but neither of them visible in England: the first on the 6 of Feb. about 8 a night: the second on the 2d. of August about nine in the morning.

A Rule, by the time of Sun-setting, to know the length of the day, the time of Sun-rising, and the length of the Night.

In the 4 Column in the Blank page of the Almanack right against the day you desire to know, is the hour and the minute of the setting of the Sun: which being doubled makes the length of the day: and subtracted from twelve shews the time of the sun-rising. And the time of sun-rising being doubled makes the length of the night.

e Month, day, and place of all the Principal Faires in England and Wales.

A Rule to know what one dayes expence amounts to in the whole Year.

Reckon so many pounds, so many half pence, so many groats, & so many pence, as you expence pennies in one day, and these put together will shew what your expence amounts to in the year.

As for Example.

If your expence be 6 pence every day, that is 18 pence, or 9 pence, or 4½ pence, or 9d. 2s. 6d. which is the whole years expence.

AN ADVERTISEMENT.
